The actual circulation was larger than shown by the figures. Some over 100 books were circulated from the school and the records have not been returned. Also some patrons have loaned books to other families instead of returning them to the library.

Report of Committee on Honor Roll

To the citizens of South Hampton
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your committee, appointed at the last annual meeting to secure an Honor Roll of the servicemen of World War II and to raise the money necessary to defray the cost of same by popular subscription, wishes to report as follows: After receiving estimates of the cost of a bronze plaque with the names of all the service men thereon, the cost of preparing the boulder on which to place it (The boulder being the same one on the " Common" already bearing a plaque in honor of those serving in the Civil War and World War I), and other costs, we estimated the total cost would be slightly more than two hundred dollars. On that basis we canvassed the entire town. The response was spontaneous and generous and we received the sum of $222.25, which we believed would be more than sufficient, but due to an error in the estimate of the cost of preparing the boulder and the expense of adding the names of two men who enlisted later, we were obliged to use the entire sum.

On Memorial Day afternoon, dedication exercises were held when Willis J. Evans, representing the committee, presented the plaque to the Service Men and Donald S. Hellen, representing the Service Men accepted it.

Your committee believes it has accomplished the task for which it was appointed and wishes to thank every one, who in any way contributed to the success of the undertaking.

Respectfully submitted,

Superintendent's Annual Report

February 1, 1947

Good Citizenship tomorrow is based upon Good Schools today.

To the School Board and Citizens of South Hampton:

I am pleased to submit my fifth annual report as superintendent of your schools.

Teachers and Finance

During the past year one of our greatest problems has been to maintain our teaching force. The usual factor of higher salaries elsewhere, plus the desire of some of the married teachers to remain at home since the ending of the war, have been the chief causes for the need for about twenty (approximately 50%) new teachers within this Supervisory Union. We have however, been fortunate to continue and in most instances improve our teaching forces.

Teachers salaries is undoubtedly the number one school problem throughout the country today. It is anticipated that much higher salaries for teachers will not only follow as a result of the present economic situation which is comparable to that which followed World War I but may continue after the crisis is over as a means of inducing more of the better high school graduates to look toward the teaching field as their chosen profession. The present low enrollment of prospective teachers in our teacher training institutions is indicative of an acute continued shortage for some years to come. From the state and federal levels of school finance, there is much indication that considerably more state and possibly federal money will be available (without more control) for local units. Should this outlook become a reality, teachers salaries and other necessary expenditures could be increased to a great extent without much if any increase in direct property taxes which are in many instances too high at the present time.

The bill proposed by our State Board of Education and now pending before the state legislature would increase the amount of state aid to local towns and cities throughout the state from around $400,000 to $2,080,000. If this proposal is adopted by the legislature, different individual towns within Supervisory Union No. 14 would receive from two to nearly four times as much as they are now receiving from state funds.

Social Studies

The three R's (reading, writing and arithmetic) continue to be the basic foundation upon which our whole education system is based but to them other important phases have been added. In the social science field, the study of geography and history continue to stress the relationships between all peoples and nations. As set forth as the key to the Constitution, adopted in London in Nov. 1945, of the United Nations Education, Scientific, Cultural Organization the following statement shows the need for continued consideration of other people and places. "That since wars begin in the minds of men, it is in the minds of men that defenses of peace must be constructed." In this atomic age, we are in the midst of one of the great revolutionary periods of history and upon our generation and its successors the task is imposed of discovering and organizing and establishing a multitude of new relationships among the peoples of this planet. In relation to this but under the title of Air Age Education the president of the National Education Association has recently stated "youth should develop a sense of personal concern for the solution of our problems brought about by aviation—all pupils have an obligation to study and, in so far as possible, to help solve the problems which the air age presents." Throughout our schools, children are becoming more aware of these problems through use of modern books, current publications and in some instances the use of motion picture machines and radios.

Guidance

In order to more completely discover and develop the potentialities of each individual pupil for his own happiness and social usefulness, our teachers are attempting to cause each pupil to progress according to his own abilities. Promotions are determined on the basis of mental, physical and emotional development as well as of grade-achievement. Consideration is on the question of what appears to be for the best for each individual child. Standardized achievement tests were administered to children above grade two during the past year and mental ability tests are administered to each child at least twice during his school years. Results of these tests are of a great help in knowing what to expect of the child and to check his progress in comparison to other children within the same age and grade groups. The proficiency of our testing program is impeded in some instances by the lack of time on the part of teachers to correct and interpret the tests and in some instances because of lack of training of some teachers in the testing field.

Books and Visual Aids

We are continuing to purchase the newest books available for the various grades and subjects as the older ones become worn and outdated. An answer to the question "Why Don't We Get Our Books?" is found in the following quotation from Lloyd W. King, Executive Secretary of the American Textbook Publishers Institute. "It is true that schools opened in September of this school year with a shortage of text and reference books.—and because of this shortage of stock about 12½ % of the school books ordered had not been delivered." Some other reasons given for this situation are: (1) limited supply and increased demand for white paper from which books are made, (It is estimated that the demands for books of all kinds in 1946 is three times the 1943 volume of production.) (2) restricted pulp supply. (3) shortage of new machinery and therefore lack of press time. (4) strikes. Mr. King continues with estimates to the effect that, because costs are continuing to increase, textbook prices will be by July 1, 1947 40% higher than the 1942 prices. Within our area, we have renewed our book supply during the past few years to the extent that budgets for books will probably not be increased to a great extent for the coming year.

From the Twenty-fourth Yearbook of the American Association of School Administrators (1946) we quote "One lesson from the educational programs of the armed services should be emphasized. Audio-visual aids are vitally necessary in the educational equipment of a modern school.—Projection equipment, radios and phonographs are essential." The moving picture projectors in Newmarket and Epping are being used regularly. Several of our Schools are fortunate in having continued rise of radios, and victrolas.

Some of the greater weaknesses within our area and common to it at the present time are poor physical plants, educational and economic inefficiency in organization in some instances, lack of satisfactory playground areas and limited curricula in our high schools. The state aided vocational offerings at the Dover High School which are free—except for transportation—are being utilized by a few students within this area. Courses in vocational agriculture, home economics, commerce, mechanic arts and beauty culture are available at Dover to any high school student who wishes to elect them. These vocational courses, with other more usual high school subjects provide a full high school course, the completion of which entitles the pupil to a regular high school diploma.

"If youth are vocationally proficient and have earning capacity, as well as the broadening educational offering which help them in their social and civic performances in life, they are on the road to being good citizens and will be well equipped to make their contributions to society.”*

*1945 Yearbook American Asso. of School Administrators.

Physical Fitness:

One of the educational trends throughout the country is general improvement of programs to develop physical and mental health. For twelve years the school has a remarkable opportunity to join hands with other agencies in making physical fitness a major objective. Our school nurse, Mrs. Cooper makes a careful examination of each child once each year and has a watchful eye for any physical weaknesses or signs of illness or disease during each visit to the school. Many of the defects are corrected through the good efforts of parents although in some instances no corrections are made. (This fact may be more specifically noted in the nurses report which follows). More care should be taken by parents in follow-up work to prevent more serious situations at later dates. The organized playground activities in our schools are valuable moves toward our objective. Organic power is built in accordance with the age-old law of use which means “physical exercise”.

Three major health factors; namely, sleep, rest, and nutrition are taught in health and science classes; the third mentioned is being further encouraged by the government through financial aid in purchasing of milk, donation of food, and, in many instances, donations toward purchases of lunch room equipment. As our school buildings are improved or renewed to include running water, refrigeration and cooking facilities we may be able to have a school lunch program in every school.

Mrs. Elizabeth Merrill of Hampton Falls, who resigned to accept a similar position in Stratham, was replaced in the Primary Grades by Miss Mary Irene Cannon of Greenland and Keene Teachers College. Miss Cannon had had one year of successful experience in Enfield, N. H. before coming to South Hampton. Mrs. Kathryn Carrier of South Hampton continues in her regular position as teacher of Grades 5-8. Both teachers appear to be working conscientiously and effectively for the betterment of the children and the community.

Music Supervisor

In October 1946, the Supervisory Union Music Committee selected Miss Prudence Hayes of Orono, Maine to replace Miss Marion Foster as Supervisor of Music. Miss Hayes had had several years of experience in a similar position in the public schools of Old Town, Maine and is continuing the good work in music in the public schools in the eight towns within this Union except Newmarket (which has its own supervisor), plus East Kingston and Sanborn Seminary. Miss Foster resigned in August 1946 to accept a position as Assistant Supervisor of Music in Newburyport, Mass; this change appeared to be a professional and financial advancement for Miss Foster.

The attitudes of the pupils are excellent. Except for lack of competition within the grades with such a small enrollment and high per pupil cost, the Barnard School is operating as efficiently as could be expected.

The South Hampton Parent Teacher Association has continued its whole-hearted cooperation and is now working on the very worthy project of attempting to provide the use of a moving picture projector for the school.

It might be possible to provide some lunch-room equipment in order that hot lunches could be served to the children during the noon period. The budget of the Federal School Lunch Program might provide fifty percent of the expense of the necessary stove and other equipment; we could also receive donations of some foods if the Government Agricultural Marketing program continues. Schools within our area are now receiving two cents per half pint bottle of milk consumed by the school children in school, free donations of canned pineapple and beets and expect other commodities such as tomato juice, peach preserves, etc.

The interior of the building is in need of paint; the ceilings should be whitened.

In conclusion, your attention is directed to the following reports of the school nurse Mrs. Constance Cooper, R. N. and the music supervisor Miss Prudence Hayes.

Again I wish to thank the members of the School Board, the teachers, pupils and parents for their continued cooperation in carrying on and improving the work of education in our community.

The members of your School Board continue to work for the betterment of the school. "They are helping to build the future"—and according to a recent publication, "perhaps more than any other group, they have the opportunity to shape the future of America".

Respectfully submitted,

JONATHAN A. OSGOOD,
Superintendent

Report of Music Supervisor

To the Superintendent and the School Board of South Hampton, New Hampshire:

I hereby submit my first annual report as Music Supervisor:

People everywhere have come to recognize the strong educational value of music. Music when taught properly contributes to mental growth as much as any other study in the school curriculum. Therefore, modern schools include not only the technical aspects of music but also the establishing of listening habits in children.

The music program consists of ear-training, music appreciation and folk dancing. All of these branches of musical knowledge when grouped together form a sound basis for further enjoyment, in later years.

While the most progressive educators of today believe that singing is essential, they also believe that school music should mean something more than singing. A genuine growth in music means a gradual and progressive development. This growth is possible through the program described.

In conclusion, may I express my appreciation to all who have made this school year so pleasant.

Respectfully submitted,

PRUDENCE HAYES
